

IMPACTS

- Children in our homes have the opportunity to get value based quality education in a safe and secured atmosphere.
- Children have learnt and availed the chance to learn good habits, values and good academic foundation.
- They have gained self confidence, academic excellence and value based education
- Children have grown in interpersonal and intrapersonal relationship.
- Children have taken up leadership roles in many occasions in organizing the groups, preparing programmes and to carry out the given activities. Thus children have developed their inner potentials and leadership qualities.
- Patriotism, social concern, civic sense and knowledge on ecology are inculcated at a very tender age.
- The literacy rate started increasing and the drop out rates decreased.
- Children are aware of their rights, duties and the appropriate action to be taken in the case of violation of their rights.
- Reduced child labor and early marriages in our work areas.

CONCLUSION:

“Happiness does not consist in pastimes and amusements;
But in virtuous activities.” – Aristotle

The joy of our mission shines when our target the children grow and develop in their day—to- day life. We see our children in the home and in the villages grow and develop their skills and talents. We see our children relishing their stay in the homes and enjoying their rights. We promote every child who comes in contact with us to experience the love of God and to share the same with everyone in the society. Children have collaborated with the SHG women and the local leaders to ensure the basic needs of their villages. The values and the talents learnt from the homes reflect in the lives of our children not only when they are in the homes but also with others associated in their lives. The little success and the impacts created through our mission have helped us to go forward and to extend our service to many. We thank all our friends, benefactors and the well-wishers in supporting us in our mission of empowering these underprivileged children to become fully human and fully alive.
